Reservations Applicable throughout the European Union (EU)
(applicable to all EU Member States unless otherwise indicated)

Sector: All sectors
Sub-sector:
Industry classification:
Type of Reservation: Market Access

Description: Investment
In all EU Member States, services considered as public utilities at a national or local level may be subject to public monopolies or to exclusive rights granted to private operators.

Public utilities exist in sectors such as related scientific and technical consulting services, R&D services on social sciences and humanities, technical testing and analysis services, environmental services, health services, transport services and services auxiliary to all modes of transport. Exclusive rights on such services are often granted to private operators, for instance operators with concessions from public authorities, subject to specific service obligations. Given that public utilities often also exist at the sub-central level, detailed and exhaustive sector-specific scheduling is not practical.

This reservation does not apply to telecommunications and to computer and related services.

An individual authorisation for the production of electricity of a capacity of 25 MW requires establishment in the EU, or in another State which has a similar regime to that enforced by Directive 96/92 in place, and where the company has an effective and continuous link with the economy.

The offshore production of electricity within the offshore territory of Belgium is subject to concession and a joint venture obligation with an EU company, or a foreign company from a country having a similar regime to that of directive 2003/54/CE, particularly with regard to conditions relating to the authorisation and selection. The Government may exercise certain special powers in enterprises operating in the areas of defense and national security, and in certain activities of strategic importance in the areas of energy, transport and communications. This relates to all juridical persons carrying out activities considered of strategic importance in the areas of defense and national security, not only to privatised companies.

Where there is a threat of serious injury to the essential interests of defense and national security, the Government has following special powers:-

- a) to impose specific conditions in the purchase of shares;
- b) to veto the adoption of resolutions relating to special operations such as transfers, mergers, splitting up, and changes of activity;
- c) to reject the acquisition of shares, where the buyer seeks to hold a level of participation in the capital that is likely to prejudice the interests of defense and national security.

Any resolution, act and transaction (transfers, mergers, splitting up, change of activity, termination) relating to strategic assets in the areas of energy, transport and communications shall be notified by the concerned company to the Prime Minister's office. In particular, acquisitions by any physical or juridical person outside the EU that give this person control over the company shall be notified.

The Prime Minister may exercise the following special powers:-

- a) to veto any resolution, act and transaction that constitutes an exceptional threat of serious injury to the public interest in the security and operation of networks and supplies;
- b) to impose specific conditions in order to guarantee the public interest;
- c) to reject an acquisition in exceptional cases of risk to the essential interests of the State.

The criteria on which to evaluate the real or exceptional threat and conditions and procedures for the exercise of the special powers are laid down in the law.
